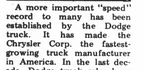
It's The Fastest

FASTEST CAR ON WHEELS

The Blue Flame, long, slim and shaped like a bullet, holds the record as the fastest car ever built. This four-wheeled flyer, powered by liquid natural gas and driven by Gary Gabelich of San Pedro, California, exceeded 650 mph on the Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Oct. 23, 1970. The car is theoretically capable of speeds to 900 mph.

* * *



A more important "speed" record to many has been established by the Dodge truck. It has made the Chrysler Corp. the fastest-growing truck manufacturer in America. In the last decade, Dodge truck sales have increased 259 percent, compared to the industry average of 88 percent. Dodge sales in 1976 soared 44 percent over the previous year. The versatile 1979 Dodge D150 Club Cab can be used in a wide variety of work or family situations.

* * *

Speed of another kind has been demonstrated by Bob Munden of Kansas City, Missouri, who sets records with a pistol instead of pistons. Reportedly the fastest quick-draw of them all, he was timed in 1963 shooting a man-sized silhouette 21 feet away in 21/100ths of a second.

America The Beautiful

Hordes of small entrepreneurs are stacking orange crates on street curbs, throwing mom's best tablecloth on top and launching a business extravaganza with the cry, "Lemonade for sale!"

There's no way to stop this annual migration to the street with pitchers of lemonade in hand. Nor is there any reason one would want to — it's a valuable lesson in the workings of free enterprise.

However, that lesson is being enhanced by an offer from the makers of Dixie products and the makers of Minute Maid products to generate funds for America's Olympic Team. They are inviting young people's organizations across the country to set up lemonade stands and share sales receipts with the U.S. athletes on a 50-50 basis.

The program includes a specially-printed lemonade stand for $9.95 and proofs of purchase. For each stand sold, the makers of Minute Maid products will donate $1 to the U.S. Team. The fully-equipped package includes the stand with assembly instructions, counter cover, advertising poster, official armband and hat, money can wrapper, vendor card and a starting set of special Limited Edition Olympic Games Cups from Dixie.

Supported by advertising in leading consumer magazines, Sunday supplement inserts and point-of-sale material, the program will continue through the 1980 Olympics in Moscow. Cartons of Dixie Cups (including the special Olympic Games Cups) will be "flagged" during the summer with order forms for the lemonade stands, plus coupons for Minute Maid lemonade.

NEWS OF PROGRESS

Muzzling Gas-Guzzling

With a new energy crisis brewing, smart private and commercial drivers are doing all they can to conserve precious fuel.

Good car-care will put you on the road to fuel savings.

Vehicle maintenance plays an important role in conserving gas. You can improve your car's efficiency by having it serviced regularly. Check the manifold heat control, have a general tune-up. Have the choke, fan and air conditioning belts checked and the air filter inspected. Improperly aligned tires, too, waste gas and make the tires wear out faster.

Multi-grade motor oils can also boost fuel economy by three percent to better than six percent for both autos and trucks, according to the Amalie Refining Company, which has been concerned with American drivers and their automotive needs for over 75 years. A 25-truck fleet, for instance, using multi-grade lubricants, could save more than $25,000 each year in fuel costs!

Being resource-full requires putting the brakes on energy waste!

Now You See It!

For a winning combination in a dining area, try mixing residential track lighting and a chandelier.

Bronze cylinder Halo Power-Trac lampholders highlight the cabinets and counters. A Lite-Trand chandelier lights up the table area.

Track lighting, with individual lampholders, serves to dramatize and spotlight specific areas of items in a room. The chandelier provides general lighting with five uplights set in clear glass chimneys. This particular chandelier also has a concealed downlight for illuminating the table area.

The mix and match can result in any style you wish to blend with your home decor. Lampholders come in all shapes and finishes, cylinders, spheres, squares, pinchbacks. The chandeliers, too, are designed in many forms—to evoke the modern feeling, nostalgia or the traditional.

Try combination lighting for a space-saving, energy-saving way to light up a room.

Renegades Sharp In Tourney Win

The Renegades girls' softball team produced another exciting and successful week end of softball at the Surry USSSA Invitational Tournament this past week end.

The winning group is a combination of our local Renegades from the Appomattox-Farmville area and several Belles from the Chase City area.

These girls first discovered their winning combination two weeks ago when they captured a USSSA world berth at the Shenandoah Classic at Winchester with a second place trophy.

Their efforts at Surry, however, paid off even bigger as they claimed the first place championship trophy in a field of 17 teams from all over the state.

Play began for the enthusiastic Renegades at 10 a.m., Saturday, as they faced Marathon from Newport News. Scoring began in the third inning as Terry Adams and Pam Harris scored on a triple by Annette Carter. Liz Satterfield's sacrifice fly then made the score 3-0.

The Renegade bats were just warming up and scored again in the fourth making it 4-0, but in the fifth inning the hits really came with singles by Connie Murray, Helena Flannagan, Cindy Crute, and Roxie Martin plus another triple from Annette Carter. Four runs scored pushing the Renegade advantage to 8-0.

Marathon mustered one run in the bottom of the sixth when Pam Harris replaced with her triple in the seventh. The Renegade defense came through errorless and the team won their tourney opener 9-1.

At 1 p.m. the team got ready to tackle a tough Jack David Inc. of Hawks of Virginia Beach. Hits by Debbie Smith and Beth Fore coupled with a Hawk error scored three runs in the top of the first.

Then misfortune hit the Hawks in the third when their shortfielder suffered a broken collarbone making a spectacular catch and the team was forced to forfeit the game 7-0 since they had no substitutes.

This win sent the renegades to the third round in the winners' bracket making them one of the only four undefeated team's remaining. The schedule placed them up against a tough Rockette team from Norfolk, a group the Renegades squeezed by 3-2 at Winchester.

Heavy rains caused postponement of that game until 10 a.m. Sunday morning. The Renegades drew home for this contest and held the hardhitting Rockettes in the top of the first. A sacrifice fly by Liz Satterfield scored Terry Adams to send the Renegades out to an early 1-0 lead.

The Rockettes came back strong in the second and snatched the one run they'd given up. Hits by Sharon Arrington, Helena Flannagan, and Roxie Martin produced two runs in the second making it 3-1. The Renegade bats kept their momentum and scored one from a single by Beth Fore followed by Connie Murray's triple.

Mariana Johnson and Angette Carter hit in one more for the Renegades making the final 5-2 and advancing the home group to the last winner's game against the Va. Outlaws from Norfolk.

The tough Outlaws began with bats sizzling taking a 6-0 lead after two innings. The Renegades struggled to overcome their hitting slump but mustered only two runs in the sixth while the outlaws added four to coast to a 10-2 victory which sent the Renegades to the losers bracket.

Still assured of third place the Renegades found they must meet the Rockettes again. Steady rain had by now made the field look more like a swimming pool but play continued despite the adverse conditions.

Things looked dim for the Renegades as they were down 2-0 as they came to bat in the top of the fifth. Singles by Mariana Johnson and Pam Harris got the runners on. Then Annette Carter's triple sent in the much needed scores.

Debbie Smith knocked in Carter and the Renegade defense set out to protect their 3-2 lead. And protect it they did plus produce another run in the seventh to win 4-2.

This big victory earned them the right to meet the undefeated Outlaws for the championship.

Enthusiasm grew as the tired, wet Renegades realized they had a shot at the championship. Outstanding defense held strong inning after inning. In the third hits by Terry Adams, Beth Fore, Sharon Arrington, and Debbie Smith produced two big runs. A score came again in the sixth as Susan Handy scored on hits from Connie Murray and Mariana Johnson.

Pam Harris scored the fourth Renegade run in the top of the seventh off a single by Annette Carter and sacrifice fly from Beth Fore. The defense took the field with a 4-0 lead three outs away from the championship, when the Outlaws began with back to back hits, scored one on an infield pop up. A tag by Roxie Martin registered the second out with the score 4-2 and runners on first and second.

But an infield grounder and easy out at first ended the Outlaws' hopes and clenched the hard earned championship for the Renegades. A world berth was awarded but the Renegades had already qualified and are proceeding with their plans for traveling to Michigan on Labor Day week end.

The Renegades will travel to Petersburg this week end to compete in the state play-offs. Classes A, B, and C will be represented.

The Renegades are still seeking donations from interested citizens.

Those wishing to donate may call Joyce or Mary Tolley
